

INTERNATIONAL FINANCE AND INVESTMENTS

Qualification to be assigned:

Economist (international economics).

Head of the program:

Candidate of Economic Sciences, Associate Professor Pavlo V. Dziuba.

Profile of the program:

The program is designed for graduates of the Bachelor programs in economics.

Students of the program "International Finance and Investments" will obtain the necessary knowledge and practical skills to work in the system of international financial markets and their management; in investment funds, finance companies, investment banks, insurance and pension companies, international organizations, public administration and local self-government, enterprises of all forms of ownership, including transnational corporations and their subsidiaries, joint ventures; in research institutes and laboratories; advisory institutions concerned with international finance and modern currency, credit, financial instruments in the global capital markets and financial services; in the systems of training and skills improvement, etc.

Courses of the master program

Compulsory courses

Methodology and organization of scientific research with the fundamentals of intellectual property

Actual problems of international economic relations

Fundamentals of International Finance

International macroeconomics

International financial markets

International portfolio investments

International Banking

International venture and direct investment

Professional and corporate ethics

Foreign language

Courses of IIR choice

Theories of Foreign Direct Investment

International financial and investment risks

Strategic management of international companies

Insurance of International Business

Mergers and acquisitions at the global capital markets

The international credit

International Financial Management

Block "International financial activity"

International Financial Analytics

The exchange rate and the foreign exchange markets

Theories of international portfolio investments

The global market for financial derivatives

International financial engineering

International audit and financial analysis

Block "International investment business"

International Investment Management

International investment projects

EU-Ukraine Cooperation Investment

Global value chain of the international companies

Tax Management of International Company

Business plan for an international enterprise

Professional competences, to be obtained

- Possession of investment projects analysis methods, the behavior of economic agents and financial markets;
- Practical skills of international investment portfolios' managing and their optimization;
- Ability to use modern enterprise financial management techniques to address the strategic objectives;
- The ability to manage organizations, departments, groups, staff and projects;
- Ability to summarize and critically evaluate the results, obtained by domestic and foreign researchers, and to formulate scientific issues of current interest.

Students of Master program "International Finance and Investments" have the opportunity to study at the partner universities simultaneously and obtain a double diploma.

Mode of study:

full-time, part-time.

Training period:

2 years for full-time and 2.5 years for part-time mode.